Let Him be praised and honored

Weekly Message

December 17, 2017.

CHRISTMAS

BEGINS WITH

Christ

Let Him be praised and honored

As we bask in our celebrations, let us not forget the reason of the season. God is he who must be celebrated above all and in all ways. I am referring to no one other than the Almighty God, the maker of the heavens and the earth. He who knows everything and everyone, yet no one can fully comprehend Him. Everyone that reflects in any form must be struck by His awesomeness when we behold the beauty of this world and the creativity He has bestowed upon man He created. Let Him be praised and honored!!!

This Almighty God is so grand that in His greatness, He is also full of mercy that He pays attention to the works of His hands; chief of which is MAN. He gives freely: Man is created in God's own very image to fellowship with Him and when man got struck in sin and its consequences, He gave his begotten SON, the only one capable of redeeming man to redeem man back to Himself. We must at this season also praise and honor, our Lord Jesus Christ who willingly accepted to be the mediator of the plan of man's salvation. That's the essence of Christmas ... honoring the Christ who made and makes Christmas happen

This simple message is the very source of all achievements that gives rise to celebrations. Let everyone that has breath, praise and honor Him especially in this season of celebrations.

Let Him be praised and honored. But how best can we do this? With everything that we have and own!

Let's start with ourselves: Let Him be praised and honored....

- With our heart of gratitude and in holiness
- With smiles and laughter
- With our voice in singing
- With our dancing steps
- With our hands and feet in service for him

Then we what we own: Let Him be praised and honored...

- With our treasures, giving with joy and appreciation to those who have touched our lives and to the POOR around us who need to be touched with the love of God
- With our talents, making God's creation more beautiful than we met it, lending a helping hand and providing solutions to those who in need
- With our time: laughing with those who laugh, comforting those who sorrow , and relieving those who labour
